

South East Idaho Behavioral Crisis Center

Donation List

Thank you for your interest in donating to the crisis center. We function on a limited budget, therefore, any type of donation helps the crisis center in one way or another. There are many ways to donate to the crisis center. Some will make a monetary donation and either designate the donation to a specific cause at the center such as transportation or clothing and others will donate with no designation. Both types help out tremendously. A designated donation allows us to focus on specific barriers to treatment like transportation while a non-designated donation allows us the freedom to help in unique ways like pay for a prescription for a client that has nothing or purchase supplies for the crisis center at a moment's notice.

The crisis center also has a Venmo account that you can designate a donation to. You can find us at SEIBCC_Donations. Please enter your business/group name in the description box so we can keep track of donations.

Other ways you can donate are in-kind donations. Below is a list of items the crisis center uses almost daily and would benefit from a donation. Some items are designated as "new" for hygiene purposes.
